

The Last Song

Bridge

I have lived my life but your wings are new
Don't let no one keep you from what you came to do
So shine your light so bright and true
These are my words for you

Verse 1

Should I let it go, finally take it slow
Should this be my very last song?
Something for the next generation?
A song from my soul, before i go home

Verse 2

I think i'll say it all, tell my sons that God is love
And despite the pain in this world
There's one thing that can heal the human heart
When we answer the call to be the face of love

Chorus

One last song I am singing
For my sons, these words are for you; I am counting on you
Shine wisdom in the storm, be Gods in human form in this world
You, could make this world new
